

BROUGHT TO BOOK

Miss Marple has lent a book to Dolly Bantry, which has ended up on the shelves of the library in Gossington Hall. Can you locate the book from the clues to return the book back to Miss Marple?

The book is on a row where three tall books only just fit the shelf height.

The book does not have a black circle on the spine.

The book is between a white book and a grey book.

The book is directly below a black book.

ANYONE FOR TENNIS?

The annual tennis tournament at the Majestic Hotel is a splendid affair. It is a chance for the fashionable ladies of the area to show that they have immaculate taste.

One hundred and twenty ladies attended the event.

90 per cent of the ladies wore hats.

Three quarters of the ladies sported brightly coloured floral dresses.

Precisely 112 ladies wore a necklace, which was twice the number of ladies who carried a parasol.

What is the smallest possible number of ladies to wear a hat, a floral dress, a necklace and carry a parasol?

